Serving as a Girl Scout today means being part of a worldwide organization that builds leadership skills by providing girls with opportunities to discover a strong sense of self, connect with others, and take action to make the world a better place. March 12, 2012 marks the 100th Anniversary of Girl Scouting. During Girl Scout Week, which runs March 11 -17, Girl Scouts of all ages celebrate by demonstrating leadership and service in ways that have a real impact on their communities.

Girl Scouts is proud that change is one of our greatest traditions. We continue to keep in step with girls' needs while remaining true to the core values of the Girl Scout Movement. The Girl Scout Promise "to help people at all times" is actualized every day through the many community service projects that Girl Scouts do to give back to their local and global communities.

We thank all the volunteers and members in our community for their time, talent and financial support. That spirit of sharing makes it possible for us to continue to be the best leadership experience for girls—today, tomorrow and always.
