GIRL SCOUTS WELCOMES NEW CHIEF DEVELOPMENT OFFICER

Girl Scouts of the Missouri Heartland is excited to announce the recent hiring of its new Chief Development Officer, Angie Robinson Sullivan. Sullivan brings more than thirteen years of professional experience, and was most recently the Associate Director of Development for Westminster College in Fulton, Missouri. Sullivan also spent three and a half years working for the Girl Scouts - Heart of Missouri Council, first as a Membership Marketing Manager and then as Director of Fund Development. "We are thrilled to welcome Angie back to the Girl Scout family," says Girl Scouts of the Missouri Heartland CEO Jennifer M. Orban, "Her background in fundraising and advocacy make her a great fit for this new role."

With Bachelor of Arts and Master of Business Administration degrees from William Woods, Sullivan says she looks forward to the challenges and surprises of her new position, which will include cultivating donor relationships, building a major gifts program, and helping to celebrate the 100th anniversary of Girl Scouts of the USA in 2012. "The Girl Scout story is such a great story and I'm excited to get out there and tell it!" says Sullivan.

About the Girl Scout Leadership Experience

Founded in 1912, Girl Scouts of the USA is the preeminent leadership development organization for girls in grades K-12. With 3.3 million girl and adult members worldwide, Girl Scouts is the leading authority on girls' healthy development. Today's Girl Scout Leadership Experience has evolved to fit a wide variety of interests of schedules. With six program pathways – events, series, camp, troops, travel, and virtual – girls have more options and more reasons to join than ever before. Through hands-on learning opportunities and a girl-led decision-making process, the Girl Scout Leadership Experience empowers girls to discover a strong sense of self, connect with others in a changing world, and take action to help make the world a better place.

About Girl Scouts of the Missouri Heartland

Girl Scouts of the Missouri Heartland has a membership of approximately 16,000 girls and 6,000 adults across 68 counties in central and southern Missouri, southeast Kansas, and northeast Oklahoma. With the support of community partners, donors, and volunteers, we mentor and support girls as they develop crucial life skills and prepare to take the lead – today, tomorrow, and for the rest of their lives. For more information on how to join, volunteer, reconnect or donate to Girl Scouts, call 877-312-4764 or visit us on the web at www.girlscoutsmoheartland.org.
