

Outdoor Art Expert

Age-level: Senior
Pillar: Outdoors

Badge Description: Learn to see nature with an artist’s eye and create something helpful to the environment.

1. Explore art outdoors.
 - Research online at least three or more local public artworks that are located outdoors. Think about outdoor art that people enjoy—it could be statues, sculptures, murals, plaques, billboards, a fountain, landscaped gardens, or unusually designed buildings. Start a journal and write about or sketch the art.
2. Make something!
 - Take a hike by a lake, or around your neighborhood to pick up litter and then create something. Name your art piece and include a brief description for what you want to say about preserving the environment, then share it with family.
3. Create or share music inspired by nature.
 - Learn three camp songs about nature and record them to teach to younger girls. You can find a song about nature or take a traditional Girl Scout song and change the lyrics to reflect nature. Make sure to include movements and animal sounds when you share the songs.
4. Capture nature digitally.
 - Create a time-lapse project of a scene outdoors. Take pictures of an object outdoors in a single frame at a time over a period of time—a day, week, or month. It might be clouds in the sky or plants and flowers growing. Then load the images on a computer or use an app to make a time-lapse video.
5. Design outdoors.
 - Design an outdoor maze or labyrinth. A puzzle maze has multiple paths, including wrong turns and dead ends, but only one way to get from entrance to goal. Pick one to design, and draw up your sketch. Then use pieces of rope, sidewalk chalk, or stones to replicate your design outdoors. Invite family to walk through it.
